JFK Order Halts Man's Induction

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) -President Kennedy's order halting the draft of married men Tuesday sent a New Jersey man home still a civilian-five minutes before he was to be inducted at the Wilkes-Barre induction center.

Philip J. Sullivan, 23, South Plainfield, N. J., formerly of Scranton, Pa., was just about to sign final papers when he was asked whether he was married. Replying yes, Sullivan was told of the presidential order, and was told he would not be inducted. With a cheery farewell to 12 other inductees headed for Ft. Jackson, S. C., Sullivan left to rejoin his wife, Jean. Irvin Langel, induction clerk, said he received a telephone call from Harrisburg, Pa., advising him not to induct married men just as Sullivan was being pro-

Bridges Posted On New Weights

HARRISBURG (AP)-An additional 3,000 bridges in Pennsylvania have been posted as incapable of handling the state's new increased truck weights, the Highways Department said on Tues-

Last month, the department reported that 8,000 of the state's 22,000 bridges were not capable of carrying the higher truck loads, which was increased from 60,000 to 73,280 pounds by the 1963 legislature.

Of those 8,000, the department found that 3,000 already were posted as unsafe for the heavier trucks. A crash program was begun to post the remaining 5,000, with 60 per cent of that work accomplished to date, the department said. Most of the bridges unable to accommodate the heavier weights are located along secondary routes, which truckers probably would not use anyway, a spokes man said.

Gov. Scranton signed the heav ler weight limits into law Aug. 13.

Board Files On Segregation

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - The Philadelphia school board filed a statement with the U.S. District Court Tuesday in which it declared it has no control whatever over segregation in 55 public schools where enrollments are almost entirely Negro.

The statement was signed by the attorney for the board, Walter Biddle Saul, as part of pre-trial arguments against charges by the Philadelphia branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People that a deliberate policy of segregation exists in the city's classrooms.

Shortly after the filing, 60 Negro ministers, who are members of a group which calls itself the 400 Negro Preachers of Philadelphia, marched to the board meeting to protest the official plan for launching a new policy of promoting integration in the schools.

Convicted Man Denied Retrial

READING, Pa. (AP)-Joseph J. Meas, 28, was denied a new trial Wednesday on his conviction for the strangulation murder of a 14-year-old Reading school girl in August, 1962.

Judge C. Wilson Austin, in a 31 page opinion, denied the petition on the grounds there was no error in the trail last December. Meas was convicted of strangling Janis Chmielewski and throwing the girl's body in the river where it was later discovered.

Meditation Subs For Bible

PHILADELPHIA (AP)-A period of silent meditation will be substituted for Bible reading as part of the opening exercises in Philadelphia city schools.

The Board of Education voted for the meditation period Tuesday to comply with the U.S. Supreme Court ruling barring the reading of the Bible in Pennsylvania's public schools.

An amended version of the board's by-laws omits a directive that 10 verses from the Bible be read and a suitable hymn should form part of the opening exercises. However, no mention was made of the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, also part of the opening exercises under the old by-laws,

Proposed Pocono Art Center

PRELIMINARY PLAN- The Pocono Art Center will start its $400,000 campaign next week to build this community art center. The Philadelphia Orchestra would use the center for its proposed summer festival concerts. The plan contains a chamber music auditorium seating 500 (at the bottom) and a larger auditorium seating 3,000 (at the top) under cover, and workshops for various arts.

Goldwater Polls

Public opinion polls show that President Kennedy may have lost some of his popularity margin during the civil rights crisis, but most of them say that he is still ahead of any Republican possibility for president.

The Louis Harris survey, run by the man who did political opinion sampling for Kennedy before he was president, reported Aug. 19:

"There is no Republican candidate for the presidency today who is even within hailing distance of seriously challenging John F. Kennedy in the 1964 elections."

Republican candidates trailed Kennedy in the Harris poll in this order: Romney, Goldwater, Rockefeller, Scranton. The surprise of the Harris poll was that Eisenhower could beat Kennedy easily. Another poll, one taken by the "Wisconsin Agriculturalist" showed Goldwater ahead of other Republican contenders, followed by Romney and Rockefeller.

And another poll, taken by California Republicans shows Goldwater well ahead of Rockefeller, Romney and Scranton.

Polls are not elections, but the pollsters give us the nearest thing we have to public opinion across the country.

Right new that opinion seems to be that Goldwater is the leading Republican candidate, but that he probably could not beat Kennedy for the presi-

A New York Times survey at the end of August said the same thing. The Republican leaders in about 70 per cent of the 50 states said then that they favored Goldwater as the candidate who could do the most for them in their states and locally.

But most of them conceeded what the polls are saying—that beating Kennedy is going to be very difficult.

As we have said before, we believe that running Goldwater for president would set the Republican party back two decades ideologically and would damage it severely as a national party.

Goldwater may help the party in many states, but he will not help the party in the United States.

Goldwater Against The Treaty

Senator Barry Goldwater's opposition to the nuclear test ban treaty is an amazing piece of political monkey business.

Instead of coming out squarely against the treaty, he proposed a reservation that would keep the treaty from going into effect until the Russians remove their troops from Cuba.

He did not just come out against the treaty itself. That apparently seemed too risky because the treaty has wide public support. (A Louis Harris public opinion surely shows that 73 per cent of Americans support it.)

Instead Goldwater confused the issue with getting Russian troops out of Cuba, which most Americans would like to

We cannot quarrel with that objective. But it is silly to tie the two issues together.

The nuclear test ban treaty can stand by itself as a major step forward in the cold war. It will help clear the pollution of atom fallout from the atmosphere, will reduce the arms race and slow the spread of nuclear weapons to new nations. It will reduce international tension from atomic testing and will protect a large American lead in nuclear weaponry.

We need the test ban treaty and we need the Russian troops out of Cuba. But we have an immediate opportunity to get the treaty.

There is no reason to throw the treaty away because we can't have both at once. Goldwater's proposal is a weak political maneuver used to sugarcoat a poor position against the treaty.

Goldwater fans should take note of this "Goldwater statesmanship."

Comment Of The Day

"President Kennedy has asked the American people to be patient about Vietnam, but it would be nice to know what we are being asked to be patient about.

'The truth is that the country does not know what the situation is in Vietnam because of the censorship imposed by the Diem government.

"Obviously this censorship is not directed at the Communists or the Buddhists. It is aimed primarily at preventing the American people, who are paying most of the bill, from knowing the details of the internal struggle in the Vietnamese capital."

James Reston of the New York League Times.

Passport Alley

WASHINGTON-The State Department's Passport Office will issue more than one million passports this year. In one day (last June 7) it issued 7,454, mountain-topping all previous

On another recent day it issued a passport to Lee Meriwether, of 5211 Washington Street, St. Louis, Mo., who is 100, going on 101; and to Eric Frank Celeste, of 1527 Arthur Avenue, Lakewood, Ohio, who was then 10 days, going on 11.

Mr. Meriwether was so pleased by the fast, efficient and courteous service that he wrote the Director of the Passport Office, Mrs. Frances G. Knight: "If you're ever in St. Louis, look me up." Miss Knight has not yet heard from the younger Mr. Celeste. Maybe he doesn't want her to look him up if she's ever in Lakewood

These are some of the matters with which Miss Knight copes. She has been coping superbly, but nonpolitically, for the Government for 29 years. Now a political appointee who has served the Government for 11 months is trying to kick her out. Miss Knight's bete noir is Abba

P. Schwartz, who is a sort of governmental Baby Celeste to Miss Knight's Centenarian Meriwether. Schwartz came to the

from a law partnership with former Harvard Law James M. Landis.

Schwartz still has the impressive-sounding title of Adminis-trator of the Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs, although anything to do with security has been taken away from him. But his shrunken little kingdom still holds onto the Passport Office. Mr. Schwartz's political angel was the late Rep. Francis (Tad) Walter of Pennsylvania, potent chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee. But somehow Schwartz must have stumbled upon the highlyclassified secret that President Kennedy has a brother called Bobby. He Bobbies around the State Department dropping "Bobby" into almost every conversation

Also holding him up is an attachment to Abram Chayes, Legal Adviser to the State Department. Chayes has become a figure to conjure with over there (many would like to make him disappear). Chayes interprets almost everything for Secretary Dean Rusk; and you know what an interpreter can do to a guy who hasn't command of the original.

Schwartz, bolstered by Chayes, let it be known that he was out to "reorganize" the Passport Of-State Department last October fice, although it was one of the

claimed would be to reorganize

Miss Knight out. When she learned about thisafter approximately 10,000 State Departmenters had tipped her off to it in strictest confidence -Miss Knight fired back that she wasn't going to be reorganized out-at least not peaceably. She broke the news to Schwartz that she was under a protective thing called Civil Service. Schwartz embarked upon a nitpicking campaign. He upbraided Miss Knight for giving the young women in her office a seminar in how to apply makeup circumspectly - although he himself had conducted a beauty pageant to pick "Miss State Department" at the height of the Cuban crisis.

The Press Office had always called Miss Knight when it wanted any passport information. She'd usually have it at her fingertips. Schwartz gave orders never to call Miss Knight for any information; always him .

The rank and filers in the Press Office have been going berserk as a result. It takes hours to get from Schwartz information they used to get from Miss Knight in minutes.

Schwartz also scratched Miss Knight's name from a press release on the one millionth passport to be issued this fiscal year, and gave the credit to his Man Friday, Edward Lyerly, During this period of travail, with the issue still in doubt, Miss Knight is solacing herself with The job Schwartz holds is not generally regarded in the State Department as a lifetime career. It has been held by seven men in the last eight years.

Palmerton may appear hogwash in so many circles, it is this type of affair which leads students to the big kill-dumping ball games. High school athletics can get out of hand. We've seen lads who were led astray morally and educationally just because a sports program was the "best" part of the academic setup.

Perhaps it would be a good idea if school boards took a closer look at the program instead of just hearing mathematical re-

Perhaps, too, it would be a better idea if the coach did stress character instead of winning. At least, we've never heard of a losing coach having players who were involved in deals considered detrimental to the sport.

We're not trying to hang the Palmerton kids. Maybe they are as innocent as a new horn babe. But the fact remains that the situation does exist in the state and those who get away with it now will end up behind the eight ball later.

From our military teachings we've learned that you try to stop an attack before it gets going. Maybe it would be a good idea for school administrators, PIAA officials, coaches and athletic directors to take a long look at their setups (in school and out) and evaluate the good and poor merits of the programs. Certainly no harm can be done.

Krebiozen Investigation

Editor, The Daily Record: The American people have a right to a fair, strictly controlled test of Krebiozen.

Independent research is at stake. It would seem history repeats itself. Louis Pasteur, Semmelweis, Jenner and our own Oliver Wendell Holmes, Sr., who made great strides in medicine were all persecuted by the medical profession. These men had an idea and the courage to see it through. I am sure they did not have elaborate equipment nor a large staff to help them. Yet their discoveries in use today have benefited mankind a great deal. If history were different we could leave the future of Krebiozen and other cancer treatments to those delegated to this solemn responsibility. But life is too precious and cancer too horrible for us to stand by idly in the face of the revelations made to us by men like Dr. Ivy, Dr. Pick, Dr. Phillips, Dr. Rutherford, Dr. Henry K. Wachtel, the late Senator Langer, the now deceased Senator Tobey of New Hampshire, who fought for Krebiozen, and the thousands of other medical doctors who have furnished case histories of their cancer patients treated with Krebiozen. Let's insist on a completion of the Congressional investigation started by Senator Tobey. Read the FetzGerald Report in the Congressional Record Appendix, Monday, August 3, 1953, remarks by the Hon. William Langer, to the Senate of the United States,

Toppling Diem

By Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON-Two powerful congressional Democrats have told President Kennedy that the U.S. is courting sure disaster South Vietnam if President Ngo Dinh Diem's goverment is ousted or greatly weakened by the withholding of U.S. aid.

This grim warning from Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., and Represetative Edna Kelly, D-N.Y., a ranking member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, was made privately to the President to blunt an undercover State Department plan to oust the Diem regime by cutting U.S. funds.

In separate private meetings, the two influential House legislators cautioned the President to obtain more complete and accurate information on "the

> RESTORED BLOOD CIRCULATION

Recently, traces of metals such as iron, lead, copper and manganese have become the center of scientific study because of their importance in the health and disease of the body. A special chemical with the pardonable name of ethylendiamine tetra-acetic acid. or EDTA, has been found to be a remarkable aid in removing certain unwanted trace metals from the blood, thereby dramatically increasing the blood supply to the extremities.

EDTA has already been responsible for saving many legs from amputation by increasing the blood circulation in the legs. Gangrene of the toes, a complication of diabetes and severe arteriosclerosis, has been controlled in some cases with the use of EDTA.

Extensive Research

Dr. L. E. Meltzer and Dr. J. R. Kitchell of Philadelphia, with other investigators, are uncovering more and more of the talents of this remarkable chemical. In July, Kattenburg popped up in his present key post after being shifted from the Foreign ervice Language School. Since his return to Vietnam policy making, Kattenburg has pushed for a full-scale review of U.S. activities in South Vietnam and

He is advocating a neutralization conference like the one which worked out the coalition government in Laos, but so far the foreign service officier hasn't been able to sell this plan to Secretary of State Rusk.

WYCKOFI

The other afternoon I wandered into our Hat Department to talk with Betty Winkelmann about tomorrow's Fall Millinery Opening. The average male observer would have said it was not busy there. Two women were trying on hats. But I knew, and Betty knew, and I am sure at least one of the customers knew that there were actually twenty women (maybe even more) modeling the various styles before the long mir-I could not be sure whether the other woman realized this or not. I watched her trying first one hat and then another, and I am almost certain that while she has been selecting hats Spring and Fall for almost as many years as I, she hasn't the remotest idea what the whole thing is about. She buys her hats, I am sure, in the same spirit as the woman who says, "I have to choose a hat tomorrow . . . something cheap, I guess, because the only place I wear a hat is to church." You see, hats are not merely whims of fashion . . . they are cosmetics. They can do for a woman as much in their way as she can do for herself with mascara, a bit of rouge, and a dash of lipstick. Doubt me? Then see for yourself. First, try something in a vivid blue. Turn away from the mirror, and glance back. What is your first impression? Maybe you suddenly notice that your skin is whiter than you thought; that your eyes are a deeper shade. Maybe for the first time you realize that the gray hair at the side of your face is attractive. Now try green. You may discover there is more yellow in your skin than you'd believed . . . or that there are interesting green flecks in your eyes you had never before noticed. You may be lush in cranberry; stunning in purple; a complete washout in beige or gray ... but YOU are all of these things, and any one of these women can be pushed into the background or placed full in the spotlight. But what about style? You may imagine yourself the pillbox type... or the pixie type. In fact, you may have fitted yourself into one category for so long, even your friends and family are brain-washed. You can be sure of it, if they say to you, "I saw a hat at Wyckoff's today that looks just like you. It was little and low (or tell and econiced) and I could just picture your face (or tall and sequined) and I could just picture your face beneath it." A compliment? Hardly. Just an out-andout pronouncement that the other facets of your personality have been so obliterated through the years, you are firmly settled in a rut . . . not in your opinion, perhaps, but in the opinion of all who know you.

How CAN you be just a pillbox type ... or a pixie? It's wonderful to be both of these, of course ... but never to be just one. And it's preferable to be a dozen others. This season, for instance you'll wish to be the Sportive Type, who breezes along in tweeds beneath a fedora, or a Sherlock Holmes cap—or a Jackie Coogan beanie (if you have youth on your side.) It's glorious too, to be Greta Garbo, beneath wide - brimmed, eyehiding velvet. It is exciting to be a Mata Hara with eyes veiled . . . a glamour queen in feathery crown; an English debutante in riding derby; a lady of elegance in nutria or mink; a woman of moods in a hat that droops at one side and flairs haughtily, naughtily at

Just WHO are YOU? A young girl, with dreams in her eyes? (We all are, really, at every age—aren't we?) A romanticist, looking for a certain someone? (Does anyone ever stop looking, truly?) A young mother, the prettiest sight in the world to her child? A silvery-crowned grandmother? A hard-working gal who needs the spirited lift the right chapeau can give her after a day over the ironing board? A scared young wife invited for the first time to be her husband's office banquet? Whoever or whichever you are, you are more than one person . . . and each of your many images can be complemented by the right hat. Multiply all our millinery customers by the number of people they truly are, and we'll really be rushed this weekend!

Dodgers Blast

PITTSBURGH (AP) - Sparkolug Maury Wills ignited three rallies and drove in two runs Wednesday night, leading the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers to a 9-4 victory over Pittsburgh behind the tight relief pitching of Pete Richert and Ron Perranos

The victory kept the Dodgers' National League lead at three games over the rampaging St. Louis Cardinals, who won their 14th in 15 games, 4-0, over the Chicago Cubs

Wills led off the first and third innings with singles and scored His lead-off double in the sixth also led to a run and his bases loaded single drove in two Dodges runs in the fourth. Richert turned in a steady four-inning relief job after replacing starter Don Drysdale in the fourth inning. He stopped the Pirates on three hits-one a two-run homes by Smoky Burgess in the sixth. The teams traded one-run in-nings in both the first and third before the Dodgers broke it open with three runs in the fourth.

South Wayne Abides By Bible Law

NEWFOUNDLAND - Southern Wayne Joint High School at Newfoundland, and the Wallenpaupack Area Joint High School at Hawley, two secondary centers of the Wallenpaupack Jointure, have dispensed with the reading of the Bible and reciting of the Lord's Prayer in accordance with the Supreme Court directive.

A moment of silent meditation is held each morning, in the place of the opening exercises formerly held at the schools.

In announcing compliance with the court's decision, Clayton Northup, principal of Southern Wayne,

"We will abide by the law. How else can we teach students to have respect for, and to obey, the laws of our land? We cannot tell them to do one thing while we in authority, do another.

While individual members of the joint board unanimously expressed the desire to continue with the reading of the Bible, the board agreed that "there is really no choice; we must obey the law.'

Your Horoscope By FRANCIS DRAKE

Thursday, September 12, 1963 Thursday, September 12, 1963

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) —
A conservative, prudent attitude will keep you from going overboard in misguided enthusiasm. Take time, anyway, to separate the chaff from the wheat.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) —
Especially favored now: law, agreements, conferences; working out problems with reason, strategy; activating a program that should benefit many, An all-around good day,

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) —
Consummate unfinished business,

Consummate unfinished eliminate superfluous activities. Preparations, manner of carrying out endeavors should be watched Preparations, manner of carrying out endeavors should be watched closely.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Fine Moon influences stimulate your intuition, talents and interests. But be ready to face obstacles, irritability, pretty strong opposition generally.

July 24 to August 25 (Leo) — What you do well you may tend to "put off" unbil a late hour, then hurry though it quickly. Thus, you could miss some of the gains possible during this fluctuating but, on the whole, beneficial period.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — Waiting for results is often tiring and frustrating, but if you will evince true self-control (And Virgo has it to spare) and patience, dividends will be increased.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — The present position of Venus suggests control of temper, serenity and fortitude against excitability. New strides indicated in work, business, home interests.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — You have good planetary help now, but DO shun tension, which you often increase by auxiety, attempting too much, and fear of disapproval. Work to eliminate "usual" mistakes.

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius) — When you feel you are on the right track, pursue it courageously. But do heed the advice of older or more knowledgeable heads along the way. Especially do NOT battle over trivia.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn) — Useless changes and hassles could disrupt the even tenor of what COULD be a day of fine achievement, Your sixth sense tells you where to draw the line; LISTEN.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius) — A day for cautious condeat Relax and for cauti achievement, Your sixth sense tells you where to draw the line; LISTEN.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius) — A day for cautious conduct, Being reasonable and gracious in persuasion will result in support. Sift the details of all procedures carefully.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) — Many of this day's credits will be awarded because you have worked hard for them in the past. If some profits, benefits are thin—did you not slip up somewhere? YOU can now improve system, tacties, methods.

YOU BORN TODAY have a grand way of winning your audience by telling a simple tale very interestingly. Entertaining at private parties is suited to your personality, and it stimulates your mind rather than tires. From this you pesple often make unusual felendships, contacts that drop little—even big—"gold mines" in your lap. Many a Virgoan has gone in a suite of the procrumity there. Your intuition and economical sense mostly guide you from the too speculative. You could shine as banker, judge, statesman, manufacturer. Birthdate: Richard Gatling, inventor of machine gun.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
